MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Telephone Conversation with John DeButts, President of
AT&T and President of the Business Council of the United States

1. Mr. DeButts called me this date. He asked me if I would be their dinner speaker at the meeting of the Council in Washington on 15 February. I accepted. I proposed to him two topics:

a. The international economic situation;

b. What we are doing in the intelligence world, and particularly how it affects international business, e.g., publishing more unclassified material; assisting with terrorism.

2. He preferred the second approach and suggested that I might also talk about how the business community could be of assistance to me.
